

Brewster Ladies' Library Summer Reading 2023

Story Writing

Contest

We are having a story contest this summer! Each story needs to be at least 1 full page long (typed in 12 point font). It can be about whatever you want! If you can't write/type yet, that's okay. You can tell your story out loud to a grownup, sibling, or friend who can type it for you. That counts too. We want you (the kid) to be the storyteller.

-You must be 18 or under to enter the writing contest.

-You can submit up to 2 stories (through our online Summer Reading Program or by emailing them directly to ysevents@brewsterladieslibrary.org).

-Each submission (up to 2) will get you 1 raffle ticket in our Summer Reading Program!

-The winning story, selected by a judging panel of librarians, will be printed into a book and available to read at the Brewster Ladies' Library.

-If you'd like to show off your amazing stories to the world, let us know in the email, and we can post them to our website. We will read all submissions first to make sure they are appropriate to post.

-You can start sending us your stories as early as the first day of Summer Reading: Starts Tuesday, June 27th- August 19th!

For more info visit:

www.brewsterladieslibrary.org